

DECLARATION OF DISCLOSURE

GENERAL INFORMATION

In a dissolution, legal separation, or nullity action, both a preliminary and a final declaration of disclosure (FL-140) must be served on the other party. The parties must disclose all assets, debts, and property. These documents are served, but not filed with. Then, the Declaration Regarding Service of Declaration of Disclosure (FL-141) is completed and filed with the Court.

FILING AND SERVING INSTRUCTIONS

You must attach the forms indicated on the Declaration that tell the other party what property is left for the court to decide. Example, form FL-160, Property Declaration, form FL-150, Income and Expense Declaration, tax returns, and descriptions of any business opportunities.

You must have someone, other than yourself, serve a copy of the completed Declaration of Disclosure. (This document will not be filed by the Court). Once served, have the server complete a Proof of Service and file it with the court.

Complete the Declaration Regarding Service of Declaration of Disclosure (FL-141) and make a copy. Take the original and the copy to the clerk's office and file the document with the court. Keep the copy for yourself.

Note: Do not file a copy of Form FL-140 or any attachments with this document.

DO NOT FILE DECLARATIONS OF DISCLOSURE OR FINANCIAL ATTACHMENTS WITH THE COURT

In a dissolution, legal separation, or nullity action, both a preliminary and a final declaration of disclosure must be served on the other party with certain exceptions. Neither disclosure is filed with the court. Instead, a declaration stating that service of disclosure documents was completed or waived must be filed with the court (see form FL-141).

- In summary dissolution cases, each spouse or domestic partner must exchange preliminary disclosures as described in Summary Dissolution Information (form FL-810). Final disclosures are not required (see Family Code section 2109).
- In a default judgment case that is not a stipulated judgment or a judgment based on a marital settlement agreement, only the petitioner is required to complete and serve a preliminary declaration of disclosure. A final disclosure is not required of either party (see Family Code section 2110).
- Service of preliminary declarations of disclosure may not be waived by an agreement between the parties.
- Parties who agree to waive final declarations of disclosure must file their written agreement with the court (see form FL-144).

The petitioner must serve a preliminary declaration of disclosure at the same time as the Petition or within 60 days of filing the Petition. The respondent must serve a preliminary declaration of disclosure at the same time as the Response or within 60 days of filing the Response. The time periods may be extended by written agreement of the parties or by court order (see Family Code section 2104(f)).
